HOW DOES IT ACTUALLY WORK?

A diverse group of people with a shared desire to grow

Typically groups are made up of five to twelve adults who include men and women, young and old, experienced leaders and those just beginning their lifelong apprenticeship to Jesus.

Regular small group gatherings

A typical group progresses through the three stages of The Journey in 6-8 months. They come together in a weekly 90-120 minute small group meeting, guided by a trained facilitator. But there is great flexibility and encouragement to adapt the rhythm and pace to the needs of your space and place. Some leaders find inviting to only Stage One, about two months, to be a good way to start and still move forward with the full process once the group has gained momentum.

Regular readings, exercises, and preparation

Group members spend two to four hours each week reading and prayerfully reflecting on the content presented in the stage manual, Luke's gospel, and an additional book for each stage. They may also spend time practicing spiritual disciplines and reflecting on how their learning is shaping their life with God.

Mentoring relationships

Participants are encouraged to identify a mentor or spiritual friend whom they meet with regularly for conversation and support and prayer.

A trained facilitator

Groups are led by a facilitator or co-facilitators prepared and equipped to pay attention to what adults need to develop and grow in Christ. They will encourage accountable safe relationships, thoughtful reflection, honest conversation, and prayer. Facilitators do not need to have gone through The Journey before they lead it.

Leaders+

Through Leaders+, our continuous resourcing and support online platform, we offer timely assistance for facilitating the process. We provide essential tools, including a downloadable session planner for every stage of The Journey.

We encourage you to contact our VP3 Team for a conversation around learning and facilitating needs at any time.
